

Technology Spotlight: Price Assurance

Assuring Clients the Lowest Price

Acendas Travel's proprietary technology ensures that companies minimize expenses even before their associates begin their trip.

Specifically, our technology evaluates hotel rates and air fares from the moment of booking until departure.

The process is automatic in terms of the evaluation of hotel room rates and airplane tickets.

Once the alert is received that a lower fare or price is available to the traveler, contact is made to ascertain whether rebooking is desired. While the new rates might reflect the specifics for the original booking, it is probable slight differences exist such as seat location, class of travel, type of hotel room, etc.

For that reason, Acendas Travel will only make changes to hotel room or flight reservations if the

The traveler directs us to do so or if an agreed upon threshold is reached.

"Our comprehensive technology platform delivers cost savings, adds efficiency to your operations and enhances communications with the traveler and the tracking of them during their trip."
