

We understand your complex world:
crew travel, cost centers, billable
services, international travel & more.

Professional Group Practice:

- Architecture
- Engineering
- Construction

We've been observing you.

As a travel management company with expertise in supporting architecture, engineering and construction firms, we know your needs are unique.

- Project-related travel
- Last minute or unplanned travel
- Client billable versus non-billable travel

Like any business, it is important that we find ways to reduce your expenses, add efficiencies to your operations and address any disruptions to the travel process.

How do we do that?

- Through purchasing power and negotiating, we deliver reduced hotel and rental car rates.
- We monitor your flights and hotels for added savings achieved after the initial booking.
- For those who must account for associate earning taxes, we track days associates are on the road.
- For those who require project team travel, our ability to efficiently book and account for travel of this nature is what separates us from the competition.

Traveling internationally? Our status as the small to medium enterprise brand of BCD Travel, the world's third largest purchaser of travel, offers resources other agencies our size cannot deliver such as:

- Ability to service your international locations.
- Hotel and rental car discounts.
- One global technology platform to enhance the traveler experience.

When time is of the essence and delays can derail projects, Acendas Travel is there monitoring travel every step of the way. From the moment the traveler leaves the front door until they return home.

Our Mission Control technology tracks travelers and then proactively reaches out should there potentially be a delay or one actually does occur.
