

Professional Group Practice:

- Manufacturing
- Technicians
- Operators

We understand your complex world. Time is of the essence. Delays are costly. Your destinations are many.

We've been observing you.

As a travel management company with expertise in supporting manufacturing companies, we know your needs are unique.

- Unplanned or last minute travel for client maintenance
- Per Diem travel
- Client billable travel

What have we learned about you?

Like any business, it is important that we find ways to reduce your expenses, add efficiencies to your operations and address any disruptions to the travel process.

How do we do that?

- Through our purchasing power and negotiating services, we deliver reduced air, hotel and rental car rates.
- We monitor your flights and hotels for added savings that can be achieved after the initial booking. For those who require crew travel, our ability to efficiently book and account for travel of this nature is what separates us from the competition.

Traveling internationally? Our status as the small to medium enterprise brand of BCD Travel, the world's third largest purchaser of travel, offers resources other agencies our size cannot deliver such as:

- Ability to service your international locations.
- One global technology platform to enhance the traveler experience.

When time is of the essence and delays can derail projects, Acendas Travel is there monitoring travel every step of the way through our Mission Control Technology. This includes pre-trip planning and ticketing; during trip monitoring and communications; and post-trip survey follow-up.

Should there be a delay or cancellation, our "Mission Control ReRoute" technology automatically contacts the traveler with alternative airline flight options.
